Wendel Patrick, 627 Deepdene Road. I co-produced the series Out of the Blocks and, coincidentally, I used to live on this block. It's funny just sort of looking at the front of the house, which is a front of that I looked at repeatedly for the year that I was here and I'm sure that inside it looks completely different from when I lived there. But in my mind, it's still sort of just stuck the way I remember it. I recorded and completed my first album upstairs in this house.

And now you're scoring the documentary about this block where you used to live.

Wendel Patrick (00:49):

Yeah, I'm scoring the documentary about the block with the house that had the studio where I made the first album that I ever made. So, very meta. Is that the phrase people are using these days, meta?

Out of the Blocks is supported by PRX and produced with grant funding from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, the National Endowment for the Arts, the Cohen Opportunity Fund, The Hoffberger Foundation, Patricia and Mark Joseph, The Shelter Foundation, The Kenneth S Battye Charitable Trust, The Sana and Andy Brooks Family Fund, The Muse Web Foundation, and the William G.
